The Forty Days of Musa Dagh

G-31 by FRANZ WERFEL

The Modern Library Giants series might well have been started for this book alone! Musa Dagh won 300,000 readers before it was a year old and stands head and shoulders above the novels of today as a work to read and reread—a widely exciting historical novel that tells a universal human story. 824 pages. Was $3; NOW ONLY $1.10.

The Wealth of Nations

by ADAM SMITH

G-32 For nearly two centuries now Great Britain has fought for the economic principles first propounded by a little-known Scotch professor in this epochal book. What Smith wrote in 1776 is true today. Here is, complete and unabridged, the famous Cannan edition, never before issued in less than two volumes. About 1000 pages. Was $12.50; NOW ONLY $1.10.

The Moonstone AND THE Woman in White

by WILKIE COLLINS

Introduction by ALEXANDER WOOLLCOTT

For the past five years, Alexander Woollcott has included among his routine chores a monthly note to the editors of Modern Library reading: "When are you going to do The Moonstone and The Woman in White in a single volume?" Here they are: two of the most exciting and famous detective novels ever written, in a single volume—stories that make most of the current whodunits look sick. 843 pages. Two complete novels, NOW ONLY $1.10.
